ABOUT ANGELUS

Angelus News is a multimedia advertising and editorial platform that serves and tells the stories of Catholics in Los Angeles, Ventura and Santa Barbara counties. Some of the nation's largest and most culturally diverse Catholic communities. Angelus features local, national and international reporting and emphasizes visual storytelling. We tell stories across print and digital platforms covering the most urgent issues— from world events and cultural trends to personal matters of ethics and spirituality with a reach estimated at more than 175,000 readers every other week.

Our contributors include some of the finest journalists, spiritual writers and photographers in the world today. Regular contributors like Archbishop José H. Gomez, Bishop Robert Barron, Father Ronald Rolheiser and Heather King complement the award-winning staff to bring the highest level of Catholic journalism.”
