Pastor's Corner

Dear Parishioners,

This coming Thursday we will celebrate a special Mass at 11am in Good Shepherd church with the inclusion of the Anointing of the Sick as a sacrament administered to those who are sick or weakened by age and health conditions. We hope that this will give the parish a chance to reflect on the reality of the human condition of frailty and illness, and the Lord's desire to strengthen us with the spiritual grace of being anointed to assist in coping with these circumstances of life. Due to this special Mass at 11am the two usual morning Masses at 8am and 9am are cancelled. And after the Mass everyone is invited to share in a picnic bbq lunch on the grass around the church.

This past week the parish has hosted a Vacation Bible Camp for about 60 children. They were a joyful and excited group and they certainly took an enthusiastic part in all the activities of this program. My thanks to the team that organized this 5-day event, as well as to the volunteer helpers that assisted. The kids were a delight to have in and around the church grounds.

Have a happy week! Fr. Dion

This Sunday's Mass Readings

1ST READING: Jeremiah 23:1-6

RESPONSORIAL: Psalm 23: 1-6

2ND READING: Ephesians 2: 13-18

GOSPEL: Mark 6: 30-34

In today's Gospel passage, Jesus withdraws with his disciples to a deserted place to rest and a great number of people to follow them. The Scriptures describe Jesus as having compassion on the crowd because they were "like sheep without a shepherd." (Mark 6: 34)

Literature of antiquity often referred to the person responsible for guiding a community as a shepherd. In the New Testament, the image of the shepherd expresses great authority and responsibility. Nourishing the flock means that the shepherd must protect them from heresy, ever ready to defend the sheep from marauders. John tells us that Jesus himself proclaimed that he fulfilled Israel's hope for the coming of the good shepherd: "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep" (John 10:11).

SHEEP WITHOUT A SHEPHERD

Jesus' compassion is much more than a fleeting or temporary feeling of regret or sorrow. It is rather a deep anguish, a gut-wrenching type of anxiety and sorrow over the condition of people. Jesus was describing the spiritual lives of those who were living outside of the salvation so freely offered by God. Jesus felt gut-wrenching anguish over the souls of these people who were facing spiritual starvation without someone to feed them, teach them, and lead them to true spiritual nourishment. They were in danger without a shepherd to protect them from false teaching. Like sheep without the good shepherd, they were alone and vulnerable to the attacks of the evil one, who roams around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour.

"Like sheep without a shepherd" is an accurate description of the spiritual lives of many 21st-century Christians in the world today. This is what Vatican II teaches about the situation of many Catholics today - there are entire groups of the baptized who have lost a living sense of the faith, who are directionless, helpless and very vulnerable to the seductions and attacks of the evil one, living lives far removed from Christ and his Gospel (John Paul II (RM, 33).

JESUS' COMPASSION

Jesus saw the sick and his compassion healed them. He saw those possessed by demons and his compassion freed them. He told the story of a king who was owed a huge debt by his servant. When the servant could not pay, the king ordered him thrown into slavery, along with his family. When the servant pleaded for mercy the king "had compassion” on him and forgave the huge debt. Jesus spoke about a man going down from Jerusalem to Jericho. That poor fellow fell among thieves who beat him, robbed him and left him to die. Two high-ranking religious officials passed by him, but a Samaritan stopped and “had compassion” on him. He bandaged the man’s wounds and carried him to an inn where he nursed him through the night. The next day he paid the bill and gave the innkeeper his credit line, saying, “If he needs more, charge it to me.”

Who can forget the thought-provoking story of the younger son who took his inheritance and squandered it in loose living? One day he “came to himself” and returned to his father’s house, not hoping to be restored as a son, but wanting only to be hired as a servant. His father saw him coming and “had compassion” on him. Before the son could even utter his speech of repentance, the father placed on him a ring and robe and shoes and called for a royal feast.

The compassion of Jesus heals and feeds, forgives huge debts, nurses hurt bodies back to health and welcomes home sinners, restoring them to a place of honor. Jesus will not let his compassion stay with God or in heaven. He commands us: “Be compassionate as your Father is compassionate.” (Luke 6:36).

Jesus did a lot more than just feel compassion for those in today’s Gospel story from Mark 6. His strong emotion moved him to act, far beyond what any shepherd would be expected to do for his sheep. The authentic shepherd, who models his or her life on Jesus, must love the people entrusted to him and imitate Jesus.

WHERE WILL WE FIND SUCH COMPASSION FOR OURSELVES?

From time to time, despite our best intentions, we find ourselves among those in need, those who are like sheep without a shepherd. At times we ask ourselves: “Where on earth can we find this compassion to share with others?” Perhaps it is not by accident that in the thick of his ministry and burdened by the unrelenting needs and demands of the crowd, Jesus called his disciples to join him in the desert: “Come away to a deserted place all by yourselves and rest awhile.” Could it not be the same for us, that away from the hustle and bustle of the everyday demands, we retreat in order to wrestle with our own hearts before God? Perhaps only in solitude before God, faced only with ourselves, can God reveal our hearts to us and there, we can learn the compassion of God. And there we learn mercy and become in our day bearers of the compassion of Christ.

LEADING PEOPLE OUT

One of the most powerful and moving reflections on the theme of compassionate shepherding is found in Benedict XVI’s inaugural homily of his Petrine Ministry on April 24, 2005: “(We) must be inspired by Christ’s holy zeal: for him it is not a matter of indifference that so many people are living in the desert. And there are so many kinds of desert. There is the desert of poverty, the desert of hunger and thirst, the desert of abandonment, of loneliness, of destroyed love. There is the desert of God’s darkness, the emptiness of souls no longer aware of their dignity or the goal of human life. The external deserts in the world are growing, because the internal deserts have become so vast. Therefore the earth’s treasures no longer serve to build God’s garden for all to live in, but they have been made to serve the powers of exploitation and destruction.

“The Church as a whole, like Christ, must set out to lead people out of the desert, towards the place of life, towards friendship with the Son of God, towards the One who gives us life, and life in abundance.”

This week may our prayer be for awareness, compassion and courage. Let us beg the Lord to make us more aware of the vast and growing deserts in which so many of us, and perhaps even ourselves, are living today. Let us ask the Lord to give us his compassion for those who truly are sheep without shepherds. And let us pray for courage to help lead everyone we meet out of their deserts and into the places of life and friendship with Christ, the Good Shepherd.

Gospel Reflection 2009/07/15 by Father Thomas Rosica, chief executive officer of the Salt and Light Catholic Media Foundation and Television Network in Canada. Fr. Rosica is also a consultant to the Pontifical Council for Social Communications.

Vacation Bible School

It was a beautiful thing that we had 60 children from ages 5 to 9 come every morning to Good Shepherd Church to learn about God and His great love for us. Each day, there was a slightly different focus to the overall theme that Jesus rescues! Jesus rescues us when we're lonely, when we worry, when we struggle, when we do wrong, when we feel powerless. It was just as beautiful that 18 youth and adult volunteers led by Pauline Krenosky and Cindy Akyuz signed up to share their giftings and time with the children; telling the story of God and his great compassion for all. Thank you, wonderful volunteers!

25th Anniversary OF GOOD SHEPHERD CHURCH

The placing of the cornerstone at Good Shepherd Church was on August 7, 1993 and on September 16, 1994 the construction of the church building, the rectory and parking lot was substantially completed. Then on November 5, 1994, Archbishop Adam Exner attended on the joyous occasion of the dedication of Good Shepherd Church.

Archbishop Adam Exner and Father Fagan August 1993

We echo what Archbishop Exner wrote in his letter in November 1994, that we are all called to imitate Jesus, the Good Shepherd, as we lay down our lives for others. And all those parishioners who came before us have indeed imitated the Good Shepherd as they sacrificed and worked hard to build this beautiful Church where we gather as one in worship of our God.

We thank them and continue their legacy of love and sacrifice for the good of God's kingdom.

If you have photographs or other memorabilia of the building of Good Shepherd Church, or anything else you'd like to share about how this beautiful community came to be, please contact the Parish Office. We hope to present a visual history during the week of August 6 - 12.
