Pastor's Corner

Dear Parishioners,

This weekend we have 23 of our parish families, along with Fr. Ajin as chaplain, going to Camp Latona on Gambier Island in Howe Sound, to participate in "Star of the Sea Family Camp." I was there a long time ago as a chaplain to the youth when the Archdiocese used to own and run the camp, which is now privately owned. For some years now parishes and groups have been able to book the camp and make it part of their summertime fun. Several of our families went last year and had such a great time that many more families have heard about it and have taken advantage of the opportunity for themselves this summer. It's great for the building of community within each family, but also for the community of the parish as these families share some happy times with each other around the proverbial campfire. We wish them well.

Last Thursday we had the largest number of seniors to date at our Mass and picnic bbq. And with 4 priests in attendance the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick went very smoothly with around 300 recipients. It was also the Feast Day of Sts. Joachim and Anne, the parents of Mary and grandparents of Jesus, so we said special prayers of thanks for our own parents and grandparents, who are often experienced as the local saints in our own families. And a big thank you to the helpers who set up, took down, served and cooked. Our seniors were well cared for.

Have a blessed week!

Fr. Dion

HOMILY ~ The 5,000 Fed - Miracle on the Mountain by Fr. Randy Sly ~ 4/12/2013 Catholic Online (www.catholic.org)

Miracles always involve the impossible - otherwise they wouldn't be miracles! Impossible, however is a relative term. What may be an insurmountable obstacle to one person may well be within the realm of capability of another. For example, a young father simply having a drawer full of batteries may be all that is required to be a "miracle worker" in the eyes of his three year-old whose toy stopped working; a doctor, skilled in the medical arts, may seem like a "miracle worker" to a patient who is desperately trying to find relief from an ailment.

Then there are the supernatural miracles - the ones where it requires divine intervention to bring about the solution. This is the kind we are dealing with in today's gospel.

The Feeding of the 5,000 appears in each of the Gospels. Jesus had sent the Twelve on their first missionary journey and upon their return began to relate all the wonderful things that had happened. About the same time John the Baptist was beheaded. Certainly, this seemed like a good occasion for a quiet retreat... but throngs of people followed Jesus and the twelve as they crossed the Sea of Galilee and went up into the hills. As Matthew records, "there was a great throng and he had compassion on them." (Mt. 14:14) In addition to the inconvenience - their time of retreat was ruined - the apostolic company had another problem. How are they going to take care of all these people, who obviously came without making any plans themselves on how or where they would eat?

As the time grew late, the disciples came to Jesus regarding the dilemma, suggesting that Jesus dismiss the crowd so they can go and take care of themselves. He, however, has other plans.

The Lord Likes to Begin Where We Are

"You give them something to eat." This imposing statement from Mark's account must have confused the disciples. In fact, Philip's estimate, in responding to Jesus question about buying enough bread, indicated that it would take about two-thirds of a year's wages to feed everyone. Often the Lord wants to show us that many of the problems we face are too big for us to handle on our own . At the same time, he wants us to offer whatever resources we might have as a part of the solution.

Andrew, for example, responded to the same question from a different viewpoint. "There's a boy here with five barley loaves and two small fish." From that measly beginning, our Lord was able to feed the entire company and have twelve baskets of fragments left over. In the economy of the Kingdom, this is how it always seems to begin.

In one of his Angelus messages, Pope Benedict stated: The miracle was not worked from nothing, but from a first modest sharing of what a simple lad had brought with him. Jesus does not ask us for what we do not have. Rather, he makes us see that if each person offers the little he has the miracle can always be repeated: God is capable of multiplying our small acts of love and making us share in his gift.

Fr. Francis Fernández, in his great series, IN CONVERSATION WITH GOD, writes: [Our Lord] does not wish us to remain without doing anything if the instruments which we have at our disposal are insufficient or even scarce. Jesus asks us for faith, obedience, daring and always to do whatever we can; not to omit using any human means that is available to us and at the same time to count on him, conscious that our possibilities will always be very small. Don't wait until we have all the human means, don't wait till all difficulties disappear. On the supernatural plane there is always fruit: Our Lord sees that; He blesses our efforts and He multiplies them.

When we see God's working in our lives at various points, we can easily proclaim with St. Paul in his letter to the Ephesians: Now to Him who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, to Him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus to all generations, forever and ever. Amen. (Eph. 3:20, 21)

Great Works Begin with Thanksgiving

This miraculous feeding has always been seen by the Church Fathers as an image of the Eucharist. Using a familiar formula for Jewish tradition, there is the breaking of the bread and the giving of thanks. The Greek work for "thanksgiving" is eucharisteo, where we get our word "Eucharist."

In this great miracle of feeding, as in the Last Supper and, in fact, every Jewish prayer of blessing over food, thanksgiving precedes the meal. Giving thanks is what we are all taught as a child; whenever someone gives a child a treat or a gift, parents would always remind the child, "Now, be sure to say 'thank you!'" However, we must not learn to be only thankful when things go well, holding our thanks for a goody or gift.

However, in the economy of the Kingdom of God, thanksgiving is the platform upon which we base our actions. We begin with thanks, knowing that HE is able to do that "exceeding abundant" work we proclaimed from Ephesians.

St. Paul told the Thessalonians, to Rejoice always, pray continually, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus. (1 Thess. 5:16-18)

The feeding of the 5,000 was more than a dinner miracle to impress the gathering. It provided a connection to God's provision of Israel during their wilderness wandering with Moses. It opened the door for Jesus to move the discussion beyond manna to the Messiah and his present ministry as the bread of life.

In addition, Jesus is giving each of us an invitation to live a life of multiplication, taking what we have and trusting ourselves to Him. This begins with offering to God what we have [because we truly understand that everything we have is HIS to begin with] and then give him thanks for what he is about to do.

In May of 1982, Blessed John Paul II appeared at Murrayfield Rugby Stadium in Edinburgh, Scotland to address the 40,000 youth that had gathered to greet him. His challenge that day, was built on this great miracle of our Lord:

"Saint Andrew gave Jesus all there was available, and Jesus miraculously fed those five thousand people and still had something left over. It is exactly the same with your lives.

Left alone to face the difficult challenges of life today, you feel conscious of your inadequacy and afraid of what the future may hold for you. But what I say to you is this: place your lives in the hands of JESUS. He will accept you, and bless you, and he will make such use of your lives as will be beyond your greatest expectations!

In other words: surrender yourselves, like so many loaves and fishes, into the all-powerful, sustaining hands of God and you will find yourselves transformed with "newness of life", with fullness of life."

~ St. Pope John Paul II

Live gratefully, give generously.

For more information or to donate online projectadvance.ca

Our Archdiocesan assessment of $120,000 has been reached.

Our appreciation goes out to all parishioners who have made a gift to Project Advance. To date, we have received 358 gifts totalling $123,566.95 from you, representing 17.6% participation from our registered parish families.

Funds received over our Archdiocesan assessment of $120,000 will be returned to our parish. Please continue to respond with prayer and generosity.

Make your pledge online at www.projectadvance.ca and designate our parish as the recipient. Or your pledge can be placed in the Sunday collection basket or in person at the Parish Office. Thank You!

We're celebrating 25 years!

of the placing of the cornerstone at Good Shepherd Church is August 7th. A display from that year (1993-1994) will be in the foyer of the church during the week of August 6th-12th.

If you have photographs or other memorabilia of the building of Good Shepherd Church, or anything else you'd like to share about how this beautiful community came to be, please contact the Parish Office. Thank you!

PROLIFE SYMPOSIUM
(for 16 - 28 years olds)
Aug 16th - 19th, Langley

It has been exactly 30 since the 1988 R. v. Morgentaler decision... a decision resulting in zero legal protection for pre-born Canadians. The reality is that Canadian young adults today only know abortion on demand. The reality is that 100,000 pre-born human beings lost their lives to abortion in Canada this past year; pre-born children can lose their lives for any reason in Canada.

What can we do in the face of this reality?

In any crisis, we must have the knowledge and expertise to be the best possible advocate and leader we can be.

This 3-day Symposium will include:

- NEW pro-life apologetics training with NEW analogies and conversational tools
- NEW pro-life training on how to relate to those who do not agree with the pro-life position
- NEW pro-life presentations equipping you to explain the abortion procedure to your peers with clarity and compassion

Although this Symposium is designed to equip students for pro-life campus activism, we would like to have attendees from our parish use what they learn to support our Culture of Life Ministry and become spokespersons within the parish on pro-life matters.

Our Parish will sponsor 50% of the registration fee (Hotel Package $325; Commuter Package $225).
